Corners

How to Play

- 1 Label each corner of the room (or garden/playground) with the letters j, v, w, and x, and put the picture cards into a bag.
- 2 The adult will take picture cards from the bag one at a time, hold them up, and name them.
- 3 Each time, the children listen and identify the initial or end sound by running to the corresponding corner.

Tip: The larger the running space, the more fun the game is! Not only are the children challenged to identify the initial or end sound, but the added element of competition will also keep engagement high—especially when a child arrives at a corner first, only to discover they're at the wrong one and need to quickly divert!

Playing with One Child

Play in the same way, except this time you and the child race each other to get to the corner first. You may want to give them a little head start. If you're able to access an open field to increase the running space, even better!
